Coil Construction honored with two best of category awards

COLUMBIA, MO (August 1, 2017) - Coil Construction, Inc., was recently honored with two Best of Category Awards for both the Old Hawthorne Plaza in Columbia and the Mers Goodwill building in Springfield, Mo.

Coil received the 2017 awards in the retail category in the Hall of Fame contest sponsored by Varco Pruden Buildings.

Old Hawthorne Plaza, located at 5510 Pergola Drive in Columbia, is a 6,000 square foot building designed to create an upscale feel with brick and stone veneer, cast stone bands and EIFS to enhance the architecture.

Mers Goodwill in Springfield is a 15,575 square foot pre-engineered steel structure with a canopy for donation drop-offs. Coil has constructed ten new retail stores and completed five existing store renovations for Goodwill throughout Missouri and Illinois.

The annual awards competition recognizes top projects by Varco Pruden builders that display innovation and excellence through the integration of VP building systems, products, architectural appearance, end use and design. Varco Pruden is a leading supplier of pre-engineered steel buildings based in Memphis, Tenn.

Established in 1975, Coil Construction specializes in institutional, retail, professional, industrial, Greek housing and healthcare construction throughout the Midwest, with an emphasis on construction projects in Missouri.
