Coil announces promotion of David Coil to President of Coil Construction

COLUMBIA, MO (January 25, 2024) – Coil Construction is pleased to announce that David Coil has been promoted to President. After nearly 50 years, David is only the second employee to be named President of the company since its founding in 1975.

As a 2nd generation family member, David grew up in the business and officially joined Coil Construction in 2007 as an Assistant Project Manager after graduating from Southern Methodist University in Dallas. David earned his Master of Business Administration from the University of Missouri-Columbia in 2014. Most recently David served as Executive Vice President of the company.

David began working on job sites at the age of 14 and has devoted the last 17 years of his life working for Coil Construction. “David had to earn each step in his path to leadership. David never had the ‘entitlement demeanor.’ He started very humble, teachable and willing to learn,” said Mike Hemme, Senior Vice President. “David has the energy, passion and wisdom to move this company to the next level.”

Born and raised in Columbia, Missouri, David has always been committed to the local community. He has served as board president at Woodhaven, board member of The Boy Scouts – Great River Council and is currently a board member for The Food Bank for Central and Northeast Missouri. He was a 20 Under 40 recipient by Columbia Business Times in 2017, Eagle Scout Board of Review volunteer, former president of the execMBA Alumni Association and served on the Columbia Chamber of Commerce Transportation Committee.

David has a profound respect for those who have paved the way before him, contributing to the betterment of the company with contemporary, forward-thinking practices. His dedication is evident in the way he has improved the employee benefit structure, established a system for job site field staffing and added organizational structure to the company overall as Executive Vice President.

“I’ve never known a world without Coil Construction,” David Coil said. “From working on job sites before I could drive to now serving as President, I take pride in continuing the legacy that Randy built. It’s an honor to contribute to the ongoing success of Coil Construction, and I am excited to continue forging the path of the company’s success.”

Randy Coil, who will continue to be actively involved in the business going forward as Founder and Chairman, started Coil Construction as a small commercial remodeling company. With an unwavering devotion to growth and community impact, Randy has built a legacy steeped in tradition that his son, David, is eager to carry on while continuing to innovate and build the business for the future.

“After nearly 50 years of dedication to our community and clients, I am proud of where Coil Construction is today. I look back at what a pickup truck and a $500 loan became and am beyond grateful,” Randy Coil said. “I am confident that our new leadership and current team’s passion and skill will take Coil to even greater heights.”

Established in 1975, Coil Construction specializes in institutional, retail, professional, industrial, and healthcare construction throughout the Midwest, with an emphasis on commercial construction.
